

About the Author:

Dewayne Rudd is a former U. S. Air Force test pilot and U-2 spy pilot. The Air Force selected him to test the B-2 Advanced Technology Bomber after he successfully completed over fifty classified U-2 missions. Dewayne has a Bachelor of Science degree in Aerospace Engineering from West Virginia University and Master of Arts degree in Management from Central Michigan University. He now flies for United Parcel Service as an Airbus 300 Captain.

Dewayne is also a freelance writer, and has written articles on the subject of dementia for a national magazine. "Fading Away at Wilmore" is his first book, and offers readers a unique view of this tragic disease from a son's perspective. In "Fading Away at Wilmore," Dewayne shares both the heartbreak and hope he felt in watching his father and other military veterans struggle with dementia.

Dewayne is single and lives in Louisville, Kentucky. He is a member of one of the nation's largest churches, Southeast Christian Church. When not writing, Dewayne enjoys developing his talents as a filmmaker. His award-winning documentary, "They Are Still There," focuses on several characters from "Fading Away at Wilmore."
